

Little Things that are of Big Importance.

It's the contrast between the way your clothes will come home from the Tolman Laundry and the way they are coming home now—that sooner or later will give them your work.

You worry at the dull, lifeless appearance of your table damask. Seems as if the handsome patterning was literally washed out of sight and the snowy whiteness turned to an ugly yellow.

THAT WON'T HAPPEN IN THE TOLMAN LAUNDRY. In the first place, the washing process—and that's all it is—washing; not bleaching; takes out every trace of the soil of use. And when it comes to the pressing, there is a patented filler applied—the exclusive property of the Tolman Laundry—which brings out every detail of the patterns as plainly and effectively as it was originally. Not stiff like a board—but soft and sleek as new. And instead of that yellowness—it is pure and tingeless white. A simple improvement of method that the Tolman Laundry has provided does it.

There isn't another Laundry in Washington so far as I can find that is equipped to handle the family wash. It requires special appliances; special system; specially trained hands—to do it as it ought to be done—and at the price you should fairly pay.

With the Tolman Laundry it's a business—and before they asked for anybody's patronage in this department they made sure they could handle it—BACKED WITH THE TOLMAN GUARANTEE.

They will appreciate your calling for one of their lady representatives—who'll come to see you—just to talk it over with you. Phone 2590 will get her quickly.

MADDOO URGES PASSAGE OF SHIP PURCHASE BILL
Writes to Chairman Alexander Saying There Is Scarcity of Right Kind of Boats to Carry Cotton Abroad.

In the hope of influencing Congress to awaken to the need for immediate action on the ship purchase bill, Secretary Alexander of the House committee on merchant marine, telling him that there is a scarcity of the proper sort of ships to carry the reviving trade between the United States and Germany. The matter of cotton cargoes is the most pressing, according to the Secretary of the Treasury, and among the neutral ships that are offered for this class of cargo are many boats that are not worthy of insuring by the marine insurance board. This argument will probably be used in pressing the bill providing for a government-controlled merchant marine.

The Secretary's letter informs Representative Alexander that the government marine insurance board is writing insurance up to $500,000 on cargoes of cotton to Germany. He quotes the board as reporting: "It can be safely assumed that the American and German companies are doing their utmost to relieve the existing situation and to develop a sufficient number of ships to meet the demand for cotton cargoes. The size of the market is more than sufficient on such risks to take care of any cargo by a suitable steamer."

The situation as to shipments to Germany is more difficult, and the available market is limited to German and American companies. The situation is rapidly improving, and the market is developing under the demand. "The rates charged are not excessive, taking into account that the ports are on a coast on which it is safe to assume many aids to navigation have been removed and that salvage operations near the Pacific coast were conditions, would be almost impossible."

Situation Regarding Insurance.
"As far as marine insurance is concerned we must differentiate between ships destined to German ports and those to neutral ports with the possibility of transshipment to Germany. As to the latter the situation is practically no different than exists in ordinary years. Rates to Rotterdam, Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports are practically the same as last year on similar vessels. The size of the market is more than sufficient on such risks to take care of any cargo by a suitable steamer."

TOTAL OF U. S. WOOL OUTPUT.
Production in 1914 Reported to Have Been 290,192,000 Pounds.
Wool production of the United States in 1914 totaled 290,192,000 pounds, according to estimates today by the bureau of crop estimates of the Department of Agriculture. This is about 5,000,000 pounds less than that of 1913, as estimated by the National Association of Wool Manufacturers. The estimate of the first ever made by the Department of Agriculture is based on the production for 1914, as compared with 1913 is given by states for the entire country. Montana ranked first in production of raw wool in 1914, with an output of 30,777,000 pounds; Wyoming was second with 28,476,000 pounds, and New Mexico third, with 19,077,000 pounds.

VOTE ON SUFFRAGE RULE THAT COME JANUARY 12

House Then to Decide Whether to Take Up Mondell Resolution.

It has been definitely decided by the House committee on rules to present the special rule permitting a vote on the woman suffrage question January 12. It will be the first time a vote has been taken in the House on a question of amending the Constitution so as not to abridge the right of voting because of sex, and although there is considerable doubt expressed in Congress as to the chances of getting many more than a hundred votes for suffrage, there is scarcely any doubt that the special rule will be adopted immediately.

Thus the second big question, of which the Hobson prohibition resolution represented the first, will at last find its way to a serious vote one way or the other in the House.

Will Present Special Rule.
Chairman Henry of the rules committee will present the special rule January 12, and if not voted for on that day, will probably make other attempts until he leaves for Texas on January 14. As he will be in Texas, attending the inaugural ceremonies for Gov. Ferguson until January 25, the question must be settled before he leaves or remain until late in the month.

"I will vote for the rule, as will nearly every other man," said Mr. Henry today, "and I will thereupon speak against the Mondell resolution for woman suffrage. I do not believe of any opposition to the rule in the House at all." The resolution of woman suffrage is by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, and is the first resolution printed for this Congress.

Mondell Resolution.
The resolution reads as follows: "Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of each House concurring therein), That the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several states as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be valid as part of said Constitution, namely:

"Article—Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

"Section 2. Congress shall have power by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article."

Protest From Anti-Suffragists.
A protest against the Mondell resolution was received today by the rules committee from Mrs. John H. Buck, Hartford, Conn., chairman of the state legislative committee of the anti-suffragists.

"We protest against the passage of a federal Constitution amendment for woman's suffrage," the protest reads. "It is in the power of every state to grant woman's suffrage to have it and recently within a few months the following states have defeated the measure: Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Maine, New Jersey, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, South Dakota, Ohio, South Carolina, West Virginia and Wisconsin."

"In Connecticut a suffrage bill has been defeated for forty-four consecutive years. Less than 4 per cent of the Connecticut women are in favor of the franchise and during the past three years 15,000 representative women, all voting age, for all parts of the state, opposed woman's suffrage."

In Memoriam.
BOLDEN. In sad and loving remembrance of our dear mother, PHYLLIS A. BOLDEN, who departed this life one year ago today, January 2, 1914. Days of sadness still come over us. Tears of sorrow still flow. Our memory keeps our mother near us. The heaven claimed her one year ago today. BY HER DAUGHTERS, LOTTIE AND ELLEN BOLDEN.

GERARD. In sad and loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, VINCENT GERARD, who departed this life suddenly one year ago today, January 2, 1914. Sleep on, dear father. In life we all loved thee dearly. In death we love thee the same. BY YOUR WIFE AND CHILDREN.

GIBSON. In sad and loving remembrance of my devoted husband, GEORGE GIBSON, who departed this life two years ago today, January 2, 1913. My heart is still with you. Dearest George, you have left me. And you leave me so lonely. And I have no sorrow. That heaven cannot help. Good-bye, my dear George. BY HIS LOVING WIFE, ALICE GIBSON.

HARVEY. In sad and loving remembrance of my loving mother, MARY HEINRICH HARVEY, who departed this life seven years ago today, January 2, 1908. Sleep on, dear mother. Our hearts tonight are with you. We love you, but God Loves you more. ANNE AND JOSEPH.

PUMPHREY. In sad and loving remembrance of my dear son, WILLIAM P. PUMPHREY, who departed this life eight years ago yesterday, January 1, 1907. Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding, Our dear departed one, do not depart from us. We would at this solemn moment. Calmly say, "Thy will be done." MOTHER.

TURNER. In sad and loving remembrance of our dear mother and grandmother, who left us one year ago tonight, January 2, 1914. Our hearts tonight are with you. And our thoughts are all of thee. How we love and how we miss thee. None but God in heaven can see. Heaven re-unite now our treasure. Earth alone the casket keeps. And the sunshine lingers to linger. BY HER CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN.

TURNER. In loving memory of our beloved mother, MARY HEINRICH TURNER, who passed away one year ago today, January 2, 1914. "Peace, perfect peace." EDNA SPENCE MONTGOMERY.

WILLIS. In sad and loving remembrance of my dear father, who departed this life one year ago yesterday, January 1, 1914. Our hearts tonight are with you. Since you left me and went away, To be with God, I have been free. That was a sad January day. You left me broken hearted. And all these dreary hours. As it was when you were here. BY HIS DEVOTED WIFE, MARY M. WILLIS.
